

GET A GRANT, GET A LUNCH

Office of Research and Sponsored Programs presents an informational workshop describing the WiSys Technology Foundation. Individual researchers will also have an opportunity to meet one-on-one with Maliyakal John.

Wednesday 4 November 2009

12:30 pm to 1:30 pm

Overview

1:30 pm to 2:15 pm

Individual Discussions

University Center
Conference Room 261

What is WiSys?

WiSys is a non-profit tech transfer organization designated by the UW System to promote research and development by moving university discoveries to industry through intellectual property protection and marketing.

What can WiSys do for you?

- Work with inventors to patent marketable discoveries
- License the technologies to generate income
- Teach intellectual property protection
- Facilitate industrial collaboration and sponsored research
- Assess technologies for IP protection or marketing

PRESENTERS

Maliyakal John is WiSys's General Manager and has several years technology transfer experience, including evaluation of intellectual property, development of business plans and patenting technologies.

Denise Ehlen is UWW's Director of the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs and has been involved in proposal development and technology transfer for more than ten years.

RESERVE YOUR SPOT...

Register online at <http://uwworsp.org/site/indexer/927/content.htm>. If you have questions or require additional information, do not hesitate to contact Derek Erlitz (erlitzdp17@uww.edu, x5212), Business Services Coordinator of Research and Sponsored Programs.

The University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Office of Research and Sponsored Programs provides faculty and staff with information and technical assistance for identifying and obtaining funding in support of scholarship and program development.

